

WHEN COUPLES FIGHT OVER FINANCES...

Marriage counselors will likely agree that behind domestic issues often lies financial trouble, or disagreement on the topic.

- ⊖ Some couples barely talk about the subject.....
- ⊖ Sometimes one spouse wants to deal with the subject but the other don't.
- ⊖ Sometimes there is financial infidelity- in which one partner hides financial moves from the other.
- ⊖ Sometimes money mindsets rooted in culture, upbringing, or personality are starkly different- but this is not recognized or the topic avoided.

HERE IS THE THING.....

A partnership is much more than love and unity:

It's Couple LLC

This is even more true when starting a family- Kids, daycare, transportation, meals, activities.

Heck.....you really are running a business of sorts:
Income/Expenses- Money / Logistics.

At least that's one framework you should use.

I created a Venn Diagram for that:

You can and will have your differences- it's totally normal.

But you got to find the middle where you become COUPLE LLC and see money as a TOOL- first and foremost.

If you don't have that middle:

- ✓ Recognize it
- ✓ Set time aside
- ✓ Talk it out
- ✓ Create it.

